

実践短文解釈 7

7. In no other town than London is it so important, nay, essential to have good friends, because practically everything that constitutes the charm of London life takes place behind closed doors, either of clubs or private houses; nowhere does street-life count for so little.

constitute ～ ～を構成する

count (for much)

重要である、価値がある